

MALE SPEAKER: Really good really good. Yeah. Very, very excited. I have like three most useful things, so I don't know what that counts as.

But I think you have first thing you have preparation. I learned a lot about the preparation process in the video, which I previously didn't actually consider. I used to think of people with their shaky cameras. Then actually have an idea of what they're doing. But most of the time they probably had a storyboard.

And it's not like by accident. And then eventually it becomes the idea of iteration. So you have to keep trying different scenes. Many, many takes. It never came to my mind.

And lastly, you have to have the passion for this. Because you would do a lot of takes. You will be pretty sleepy after a while, but you love what you've done. And I'm kind of excited to show what I have.

I guess the hardest part is there's so much content, and there's a lot of technical stuff there. I wish I knew more about the Creative Suite and the software. So I guess I was limited in that department. But other than that, I think the preparation part gives me the background. It helps me to do a lot of different things.

Yeah. Thank you.
